VOLUME 99—NUMBER 47 | CAMERON, MILAM COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY FEBRUARY 19, 1959 | 12 PAGES TODAY

Blood Bank Due Friday

The Red Cross bloodmobile arrives in Cameron tomorrow morning, and will set up its donor room in the basement of the First Presbyterian Church.

It will be ready to receive blood donors at noon and will stay open until 6 p.m.

The situation, according to Richard Moseley, blood chairman, has reached an emergency.

He said that unless enough donors are secured to meet the quota, Milam county will have to drop out of the Red Cross blood program. At the present time the county is using an average of 30 pints of blood per week from the blood center. Donations in recent months have not reached that amount, making the need for donors great and immediate, Moseley said.

100 Pints Sought

One hundred pints are being sought on this particular visit. In order to reach this goal public response must be far greater than in the past, he emphasized.

The blood committee gave the following information in answer to many questions concerning the blood program:

Who Gets the Blood Donated? Any resident of Milam County gets blood whenever they need it in any quantity necessary free, except for a nominal administration and processing charge.

Why Give Blood? People needing blood can only receive human blood. An adequate supply must be available at all times to heal the sick and save human lives. Donations on a commercial basis are expensive and often times difficult to obtain.

Who Can Give

Who Can Give Blood? Anyone in good health between the ages of 21 and 60. Persons between 18 and 20 may give with parents permission. A local doctor on duty gives approval of good health.

How Often Can A Person Give? Medical authorities advise blood may be given every eight weeks, but no more than five times a year.

Are There Harmful Effects? No. Some feel better after donating. Others feel slightly tired for a short while. Blood volume is replaced within two or three hours by drinking fluids.

We sometimes have difficulty predicting weather at The Herald. Getting the high and low temperatures and even the precipitation is made easy by Cameron weather reports.

But the old prediction bug-a-boo is the thing.

This week, however, a Vanguard weather satellite, now busily orbiting the earth, has changed that problem.

All we need is a few million dollars worth of electronic equipment and we can interpret weather days before it gets to earth, let alone Milam County.

As you might guess, I am constantly amazed and impressed by the space-age wonders around us.

But this latest satellite is one of only several in which I can see direct benefit to mankind, providing you could find a few million idle dollars to interpret its signals.

99-99-99-99

The satellite business sometimes describes these tiny spheres whirling around the earth as basketball size. I am inclined to believe they are more like a football after Washington gets through kicking around space - age ideas and budgets.

Latest pun on the space race with the Soviet Union follows:

"The United States better hurry up with space developments. By the time a US rocket reaches the moon, it will have to pass through Russian customs when it gets there.

9-99-99-99

There is little doubt that space plans and tremendous sums of money should be made available to develop a sound space program.

But should we bandy about the whole thing at its inception like we have the farm program, federal power and others?

99-99-99-99

I am inclined to give this program an urge toward the clinical, scientific approach, using data for dollars commensurate with need.

This is one football game where the field and the favor is outside old Mother Earth. I think this pigskin is too big for Washington platoon economics. After all, we're after more than cheers from the sidelines.

Weather Notes

The Weatherman predicts a cool spell today with warming trends back again by weekend. Rains totaling 1.56 inches fell February 11-14. Temperatures hit 81 degrees Tuesday.

Ex-Cameronite Gains Top Post

Lt. Col. Margaret Monroe Henderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Henderson of Lubbock and formerly of Cameron, has been named director of the Women Marine Corps and will take command in March.

She will be promoted to the rank of full colonel at that time.

Miss Henderson entered the Marine Corps in 1943 and received her commission as a second lieutenant at Mt. Holyoke, Mass. She then served as an instructor at the Women Marine Recruit Detachment at Camp LeJeune, N.C.

On Institutute Staff

During the latter part of the war, Miss Henderson served on the staff of the Marine Corps Institute in Washington, D. C. She left active duty in 1946 from Camp LeJeune.

Returning to her home in Lubbork, she taught at Texas Tech in the now-defunct marketing and secretarial administration department. Later, she took post-graduate courses at the University of Denver. In 1948, she was recalled to active duty along with 29 other Women Marine officers.

She then served as commanding officer of the Women Marine Recruit Detachment at Paris, Island, N. C., and later commanded the Women Officers Training Detachment Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Va.

Served In California

In 1955, Miss Henderson was transferred to Camp Pendleton, Calif., where she served on the general staff. While at the Virginia base, she received the rank of lieutenant colonel and became the second highest ranking officer in the Women Marine Corps.

Miss Henderson was born in Cameron and attended school here. Her middle name, Monroe, is in honor of the late Dr. Elbra Monroe of Cameron, a close family friend of the Hendersons. She holds a bachelor of arts degree from the University of Texas and was a member of the Lubbock High School teaching staff prior to her entry into the Marine Corps.

Miss Henderson's cousin, Mrs. Herbert Colburn of Cameron, disclosed that the Henderson family would be in Washington for the official Marine Corps ceremonies in March.

Stage Set To Work On E. 10th Paving

Jaycees Start Membership Push In Cameron Area

The Cameron Junior Chamber of Commerce has launched an all-out membership drve, accordng to President Bill Crockett.

Present Jaycee members will be calling on prospective members throughout Cameron, Crockett said for active or associate memberships.

The drive is set to begin this weekend.

"We are seeking 25 new members and 25 associate members," Crockett told The Herald. "And we feel that Cameron will support the Junior Chamber in its drive to complete worthy civic projects like the Santa Pals project, the annual Football Train, the teen-age safe-driving Road-e-o and the current "Welcome to Cameron" sign project.

Such activities are the work of young men, Crockett said, and we need more young Cameron men who are interested in developing their leadership potential and doing real service to their hometown.

Jaycees were planning to erect the Welcome signs in the next few days for painting.

The membership drive was discussed during a dinner meeting Monday at Kathy's Cafe. Next meeting will be at noon, March 2, to hear results of the membership drive, Crockett said.

"The Jaycees have worked hard in the past year to carry out worthwhile projects for the betterment of Cameron and its people," Crockett continued. But we need additional membership and support to develop the present program and inaugerate new ones where the need arises."

Jaycees projects included decorating downtown Cameron at Christmas with Christmas tree, decorations and hi-fidelity music during the Yule season.

Shuffield Dies In Auto Accident

Neal Shuffield, 31, of Cameron died early Sunday morning when the automobile he was driving missed a bridge and turned over on the community road to Lone Pine in South Milam County.

Sheriff Carl C. Black, who investigated the accident, said it occurred sometime between 3 a. m. and 9 a.m. Monday about three-quarters of a mile off SH 36 on the Lone Pine Road. Black said that death was probably due to a broken neck.

Perry Cotton, a resident of the Lone Pine area, saw the wrecked car at about 9 a.m. Sunday and notified Black.

Shuffield's wife, Mrs. Murl Shuffield, lives in Cameron. They have one daughter, Carolyn Sue.

Funeral services were held at the Marek-Burns Funeral Home at 3 p.m. Tuesday with the Rev. P. L. Capterton officiating. Burial was in Powers Chapel Cemetery near Rosebud.

Pupil Census Totals 1791 For New Record

A total of 1791 pupils were counted in the Cameron School Census just completed by Miss Dallie M. Young.

"The census indicates a larger enrollment in both white and negro schools than in any previous year," Miss Young said.

In white schools 1362 children were counted, an increase of 54 over last year. The largest increase was in the O. J. Thomas colored school where the count was 399 compared to 343 last year.

Only Details Remain Before City Bid Call

Two legal details await completion before E. 10th St. bids for curbing and paving are let in two weeks, officials announced Tuesday.

Charles Brady, Sr. and B. L. Archer, residents of the E. 10th St. area to be paved, told City councilmen that the final out-of-town property owner had agreed to a payment and assessment set-up to clear the way for the project.

City Atty. Jack Prescott said that all mechanics liens or notes had been completed except two and bid call will be made at the next council meeting.

The call will complete more than three years of work by residents along E. 10th St. from Ben Milam School to N. Jackson for the paving-curbing-gutter job, Prescott said.

In other street paving news, Mayor Bassel Wilson noted that asphalt paving was to begin this week on North Fannin from E. Fourth St. to East 12th St. Workmen were clearing the way for the inch and one-half cover of asphalt this week. Asphalt paving on E. 12th St. from Travis to North Jackson will follow completion of Fannin, officials said.

Meanwhile city contact personnel continued to call on property owners for approval for $1-per-running foot asphalting of about 35 blocks of N. Jackson and Sixth Sts.

Other council action Tuesday affecting streets:

ONE—Councilmen tabled discussion on purchase of a $6,000 street sweeper from Dulaney Service Co. San Antonio, pending further investigation of sweeper costs. The sweeper could be purchased for $184 per month, but officials said a better price is probably available on similar equipment.

Seek one Way

TWO—Cameron school officials requested restoration of one-way traffic control on N. Lee St. from 11th to 10th by Ben Milam School. Officials noted violation of the one-way control of the street which was remanded in the last council meeting.

In final action, the council Tuesday tabled applications from James Speer and Murphy Webster and "Snooks" Michalka, Holland, to run the city swimming pool.

Councilmen also discussed a cemetery cleanup drive for April, planning on beautification of the Cameron cemetery.

And officials discussed difficulties in getting easements signed for a waterline on W. 7½ St. in Cameron. Wilson said some property owners along that west Cameron street had mentioned suit against the city if the line was emplaced.

COMPARISONS normally are not worth time required to make them.

But, like comparative scores they may be all you have available to assay an athletic talent.

A release out of Las Cruces, N. M., where Texas Coach Jimmy Viramontes was spawned, comprares New Mexico State's 6-8 sophomore basketball center with former All-American Bob (Foothills) Kurland, Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain, Bill Russell, etc.

First impression is to pass it off, since 6-8 cagers with Boswells are fashionable these days. But wait, look who's doing the comparing.

Presley Askew former Arkansas mentor and one of the country's foremost basketball experts says: "I've seen all the great ones—Kurland, Russell, Chamberlain, and none of them could compare to this young man in their sophomore year."

Who is this fellow, then? Surely he must be an Indiana or Kentucky import. No such thing. Billy Price standing a bony 170-pounds, is a Texan.

Laskew first saw him washing dishes in a Ft. Worth cafe and asked if he would enjoy playing basketball. He did crave a little basketball, since he had recently graduated from Oakwood High, 96 miles east of Dallas.

To refresh a memory, it was Price who killed Rice and outscored Tom Robitaille when early in the season tiny New Mexico State upset the favored Southwest Conference Owls.

Askew says, "Price has more speed than the average tall player, a variety of shots and is a tough defensive rebounder. That proved the undoing of Rice."

Does his appearance draw crowd attention. "Well," says one teammate of the human beanpole, "he could take a bath in a shotgun barrel with plenty room to scrub his back."

RICE's upset of Texas U's frosh in Houston Monday may not have helped Jimmy Viramontes' cause in search for a new Longhorn basketball coach, although coaching had nothing to do with the result. Bill Van Fleet, of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram: "When the NCAA hit USC, there was a certain athletic figure who in a public statement blasted the NCAA for picking on USC. He said he was 'disgusted'. After USC President Norman Topping put members of the coaching staff on probation he was probably again 'disgusted but there will be no 'public annoincements.'"

Have you noticed that Bill Russell and Bob Cousy, Boston's super pro basketball stars nearly always play when it is reportde they will not? Gus Zernial, another of Beaumont's gifts to the major leaguts has been sued for divorce. The slugging Detroit outfielder is a 10 year veteran. Harlandale High (San Antonio) produces a passle of good athletic heros, itself. Tobin Rote and Horton Nestar, became immortal football players at Rice but now the Mission City School has evidently switched allegiance to Texas. Wayne McDonald, slugging Longhorn baseballers are chasing with bonus offers, and Guard Bob Harwerth, defensive star of the Texas Aggie virtory were teammates at Harlandale. Sophomore Wayne Clark 6-11 Steer basketball renter, is another Harlandale grad.

Austin Gonsoulin, Baylor's pass-catching halfback out of Port Arthur, hauled in 24 passes as a junior, nine for 129 yards in the Aggie-Rice game .... Tommy Bain, the fellow who chickened out of a fight with Paul Jorgensen, hails from Fourmile, Ky. .. Willie Walls, one of the country's most traveled football coaches, is packing again. Sammy Baugh's favorite receiver at TCU, Willie picked up the habit of mobility and it is fortunate. Forin the past 10 years he has been fired at Kilgore Junior College, Dallas Texans Corpus Christi University, Louisiana State and now Colorado .. Bobby Puryear, Texas' free-throw wizard, is a graduate of tiny Santo, same town which produced Ray (Shag) Warren, TCU's all-SWC forward.

WHEN WILL ATOMIC ENERGY MAKE YOUR ELECTRICITY?

Back in 1905 (23 years after Edison developed the first power plant) newspapers carried Dr. Albert Einstein's announcement to the world of his startling discovery that all matter is concentrated energy. Thirty-four years later man learned to split the atom and in 1945 energy of the atom was used destructively in the first atomic bomb. Today's scientists and technicians are trying to find ways to use this new source of energy for peaceful progress ... including the making of electricity.

TP&L and 10 other electric companies in Texas comprise the Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation, a non-profit organization dedicated to research regarding the use of atomic energy.

In addition to participation in the joint effort in thermonuclear research, Texas Power & Light Company employs a full-time nuclear research scientist.

It's a long range program, of course ... especially in Texas where natural gas and other fuels are plentiful.

This Company is constantly planning ahead ... to assure you ample electric service at all times, and to keep your cost of that service low. Since 1936 the cost of living has gone up 108%, yet the average price paid per kilowatt-hour for TP&L residential electricity has gone down 43%. It's truly the biggest bargain in your family budget!

Civic Garden Club

Valentine Social

Members of the Civic Garden Club took an imaginative tour to places of interest when Mrs. G. A. McDermott led a round table discussion on "Gardens and Garden Trails in Texas" at a regular meeting which was combined with a Valentine social in the recreation room of the First Christian Church Thursday.

Special guests for the evening meeting and buffet dinner were husbands of the members.

Mrs. McDermott made special mention of the Santa Rosa Garden on the Wagner Ranch near Vernon, Texas. The Betannical Gardens of Ft. Worth (Permanent home of Texas Garden Clubs will be built soon in this garden), Shangra-La, the Hodges Garden near Beaumont and just across the Texas line, "The Land of Green and Gold" a Louisiana Forest Reserve near Lake Charles, Louisiana.

The social committee composed of Mrs. J. D. Moore, Mrs. Thomas Raymond and Mrs. Dewey McElwrath planned the buffet dinner. The long table was decorated in Valentine motif with red hearts, red carnations and tall red candles gleaming from individual holders. The buffet table held fried chicken, asparagus, green beans, creamed potatoes, individual salads, pickles, hot rolls, pie and coffee. Mrs. Alvin Dusek gave the invocation.

In a short business session, conducted by the president, Mrs. R. G. Grabein, the group voted to contribute for a Life Membership in Texas Garden Clubs, Inc. to be presented to Mrs. Robert W. Carter of Luling, Governor of District V at the spring meeting on March 19, in Luling.

I SEE BY THE PAPER

This fellow can't wait till he gets home to start reading the newspaper! While still on-the-go, he wants to get in-the-know — or what's NEW in Cameron and Milam County.

Right now, he "sees by the paper" something so absorbing that he must read more about it forthwith — quite oblivious of the young lady who bought the paper in the first place, and who for the moment is principally concerned with keeping out of the rain.

Reading the newspaper most anywhere, most anytime is a habit that's as American as the Fourth of July. Indeed the newspaper's steadfast devotion to presenting the news clearly and factually is basic to our American way of life.

Muster Day To Be Observed By National Guard

Battery C, 649th Anti-aircraft Artillery Battalion, Milam County's National Guard unit, will observe its annual Muster Day in a short informal program on February 22, it announced this week.

The Muster Day program, it said, was in honor of George Washington, who was a Colonel in the Virginia militia, forerunner of the National Guard of that state. It is the Guard's modern version of a practice of colonial days when all able-bodied men of a community were required to assemble — or "muster" — one day each year on the village green with rifles or muskets.

In recent years National Guard units have conducted short recruiting campaigns at that time to add to new members to their organizations. Battery C will enlist one new Guardsman and re-enlist three of its members whose terms are expiring.

Besides General Washington, the Battery pointed out, five other U. S. Presidents have been members of the Guard. They were Andrew Jackson, Abraham Lincoln, Chester A. Arthur, Theodore Roosevelt and Harry S. Truman.

It also emphasized some of the advantages of the National Guard to the local community and the nation from both a military and economy standpoint. A Guardsman is trained for about one-sixth of that of a soldier on active duty—making it possible for the nation to have a large supply of manpower available if needed without the cost of a large standing army.

It also brings a steady payroll into a Guard unit's community. Battery C's total payrolls since it was activated in 1947, it is estimated, have amounted to about $200,000. This sum does not include other amounts spent locally for lumber repairs, gasoline for its vehicles and the like. Neither does it include the cost of the new $110,000.00 Armory now under construction for the organization's use.

Income Tax Facts

Questions and Answers About Your Individual Income Tax Report for 1958, as Presented By The Texas Press Association

Do you have reimbursed expenses paid to you by your employer on a per diiem basis and on a fixed mileage basis for your car expenses?

If so, and you can qualify, as below, you do not have to report this reimbursement as income or detail the expenses on your income tax return.

An extensive study has been made of the rates of mileage allowances and per diem allowances in lieu of subsistence paid employees by a substantial number of employers, including States and municipalities, and the method of accounting for these allowances required of the employees by such employers.

On the basis of this study, it has been administratively determined that for purposes of section 1.162-17 (b) of the Income Tax Rebulations an employee who pays or incurs ordinary and neceassary business expenses for travel (including meals and lodging) and transportation for which he is paid by his employer a fixed mileage allowance or a per diem allowance in lieu of subsistence at rates not in excess of 125 per cent of the rates authorized to be paid by the Federal Government in the locality in which the travel is performed will be deemed to have been required to account to his employer for such expenses for purposes of such regulations.

The maximum mileage allowance on a fixed scale authorized to be paid by the Federal Government for use of a personal automobile on official travel is 10 cents per mile and the maximum per diem allowance on a fixed scale in lieu of subsistence authorized to be paid while traveling within the continental United States is $12.00 per day.

Accordingly, it is held that for purposes of section 1.162-17(b) of the Income Tax Regulations an employee will be deemed to have been required to account to his employer in cases where the rates of mileage allowance or per diem allowance in lieu of subsistence paid by the emplyoer are not in excess of 12½ cents per mile and $15.00 per day, respectively.

Andrews Lists Common Errors On Tax Returns

Taxpayers in the Houston District are making the five "all-too-common" errors in their tax returns, according to A. P. Andrews, Administrative Officer of Internal Revenue Service in Temple, Texas. These are:

1. Failure to print or write legibly. Processing of these returns slows up and gives taxpayers big headaches, especially those with refunds coming.

2. Errors in arithmetic. Three out of ten taxpayers who make major errors in arithmetic or who select the wrong tax from the tax table pay too much tax.

3. Forgetting to sign. This is highly important. And when joint returns are filed, both husband and wife must sign.

4. Forgetting to attach W-2's. By not attching W-2's from all employers, taxpayers get no credit for taxes withheld, no refunds can be made, and returns must be sent back to the taxpayer.

5. Not listing dependents. Showing only the number of dependents is not enough. Their names should also be listed.

Month For Individuals . . .

February is a month of famous men's birthdays—Edison, Lincoln, Washington. Our latest celebration is Sunday, February 22, commemorating the birth of George Washington, Revolutionary War general and first U. S. president.

These men were individuals who weathered cries of "it can't be done" or "it shouldn't be done." Their detractors were more vocal during their lifetimes than after their deaths.

It is particularly true in the lives of Washington and Lincoln, rated by historians as two of the six best presidents in this nation's history. Critics attacked both men for decisions of omission and commission in derisive outcry.

Yet, the strength of the individual endured the stresses of the group. And this nation was the better for it.

Thomas Edison, an inventive recluse in a sense, hundreds of times patented devices for which other men could not see a need. Out of a lifetime of sleepless nights came such dynamic changes as the electric light, the phonograph, the movie film projector to name a few.

The individual inevitably is the discerning factor in the improvement of his embryo, the group. And yet, the group will strain its sinew to quiet and expell its very strength.

Had the United States triumphed in status quo over the voice and strength of a Washington, a Lincoln or an Edison, perhaps our present status quo would be less than it is.

We believe, though, that another voice by another name, would have risen above the group, the throng or the mob, and directed our course to a destination not much less than we know as the United States in 1959.

We recognize these men with calendar observances on the days they first breathed life.

Their influence is more obscure as time passes. But by the same token, their influence is more clearly seen when we can look back at their courage and conviction in looking ahead.

Claims Car Manufacturers Mixed Up On Why People Want Smaller Cars

Dear editar:

I have always contended that American business must know what the American public wants as it always manages to keep the latter's income tied down in installment payments for months and years ahead, but I read an article in a newspaper last night that makes me wonder.

According to it, car manufacturers, waking up to the fact more and more of those little foreign cars are showing up on the streets of this country, have decided to go into the small-car business themselves.

But, the article pointed out, while the cars will be shorter and generally smaller, their price won't be a lot less than present cars.

That is what I'm talking about. I don't think anybody really objects to a long car, it's the long payments that hurt. It's not the fact that riding around in a tail-finned chrome-plated automobile is embarrassing, it's just that it's sometimes embarrassing to pay the gasoline bill to keep the thing going.

I know it's hard to park one of the long models, but if you cut it half in two and sold it to two people instead of one, both of em would still be contending for the same parking space. I know some people say in horse and buggy days we didn't have any parking problems, but if we had as many horses and buggies as we have cars the problem would be worse, or have you ever measured the distance from the head of the horse to the tail end of the buggy? And have you ever tried to parallel park in a buggy?

What appeals to a lot of people when it comes to foreign cars isn't the fact they're foreign, it's not that they're easier to park, it's simply that they're easier to pay for and cheaper to drive. People don't mind how much car they get for their money, what stumps them is how much money they give for their car.

Of course though I could be wrong. I don't own any automobile-manufacturing plant and advice is cheap. Most of the advice I've had on farming has come from people who don't own a farm. Everywhere you look, you see new cars. And it's a good idea too. If you don't look, one of em will hit you.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Letter To The Editor

Editor
Cameron, Texas

We would like to bring this to the attention of people living in Ben Arnold. Someone has been shooting window lights in the school building with a B-B gun. We have already replaced some 40 window panes and we were hoping that shooting would stop but evidently someone doesn't appreciate the fact that our school building is the only community meeting place we have outside our churches. So we're asking you parents or grandparents as the case may be to please ask your children or your grandchildren to be careful with your guns.

If the destruction continues we will have to call in the law and this we do not want when it can be avoided. The building is public property and there is a law against destruction of such.

Also a week ago last Saturday night at one of our community parties, four teen age Cameron boys took a chain from the south door of the school building, that was used to keep the door locked. They were seen as they took the chain, put it in their car and leave the premises.

The boys all wore bright red jackets and we have access to some of their names. So boys will you please bring the chain back. The chain in itself is not that important but little things grow into big things if not stopped.

Hard Luck Stories Prevail In Austin

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN—The season of the "hard luck story" is in full swing.

Legislative committees having to do with taxing and spending are in almost constant sessions. On the one hand they hear from the state agencies that want more money — of their dire needs, of the gloomy future that awaits the state if their programs are underfinanced.

Equally mournful are the stories of those who would be the targets of new taxes. It would be like putting up a "Keep Out of Texas" sign for new businesses and accompanying prosperity, say many business and civic leaders of the sharp new tax bites. Texas communities trying to build up their areas by bringing in moneymaking enterprises would have the rug pulled out from under them, say the tax critics.

In this arena of clashing viewpoints, the legislators must serve as both judge and jury. Few lawmakers expect to collect any nosegays for their efforts — no matter how sincere or well-considered. Some expect they may have to displease both groups — by cutting spending requests and raising taxes—all in one woeful session.

BANE TO BUSINESS

As expected, businesses, large and small, take a dim view of Gov. Price Daniel's proposal to increase corporation franchise taxes.

Industry spokesmen told of probable increases of from 50 to 250 per cent in the amount they would have to pay. They complained, too, that they'd have to pay a tax whether they were making money or not since the tax would be on capital, rather than income.

Rep. J. E. Winfree of Houston sponsor of the bill, told the business representaitves, in effect, "It's this or something else."

University of Texas "will sink back into mediocrity," declared exes and officials, unless the school gets a better appropriation deal than that proposed by the Legislative Budget Board.

University officials asked for a two-year appropriation of about $34,006,067. Budget Board recommended $27,920,624.

Dr. Logan Wilson told the House Appropriations Committee that people seemed willing to pay board based taxes for highways. Why not for higher education?

Herman Jones, Austin attorney and spokesman for alumni, emphasized the importance of improved education to this country's position in international affairs. "I don't want it put in the history books that this generation kept the budget low and let the nation die," said Jones.

UT officials also said they would be opposed to establishing a third medical branch — at San Antonio, Austin, or elsewhere — until they have gotten enough money to make "first class" the existing Dallas and Galveston branches.

Even more impassioned are the pleas of those concerned with appropriations for the Department of Corrections.

Texas Prison System is operated at about half the national average cost per inmate, says Supt. O. B. Ellis. For some years Board members have been warning of dangerously overcrowded conditions, and the need for more buildings.

A slash in funds and personnel as proposed by the Legislative Budget Board, would bring sheer ruination to the bulging prisons, in Ellis' view.

Prison System has an even more immediate pinch in that it hasn't money to finish out this fiscal year. It had a crop failure last year, when floods wiped out cotton on the prison farms.

Since the Prison System is heavily dependent on its own production, it, like any hard-hit farmer, needs some "cash money" —about $500,00 — to tide it over for this year.

SOMETHING'S GOTTA GO

We can't continue our present services and take a budget cut too, Texas A?M Extension Service officials told legislators.

Budget Board recommended a slightly lower Extension Service appropriation for 1960 than it had for 1959. Service had asked for sizeable increase to help offset extensive loss of county agents to better-salaried jobs in industry.

Spokesmen for the Farm Bureau and numerous other rural groups appeared before the House Appropriations Committee to plead the importance of Extension Service work.

Bartlett Promoted, Moves To Groesbeck

Bill Bartlett, Milam County special agent for Farm Bureau Insurance Company for the past 2 years has been named General Agent for the Limestone County Farm Bureau. The promotion was effective Monday.

Mr. Bartlett, who has also been engaged in farming and ranching in the Sharp community, will move to Groesbeck.

William F. Arthur, general agent for Milam County, said that a replacement had not been named for Bartlett.

Advice For Fishermen

Warden, Black Bass Speak

By Vern Sanford

EDITOR'S NOTE: Game warden L. D. Nuckles wrote the following comments of a black bass talking to a game warden. You'll find this interesting. Between the lines there's good advice for fishermen.

Well, warden, I'm a black bass. And, as you can see, no little fellow.

I guess I must weigh at least 10 pounds. These fishermen who see me, once in a while, probably go back to town and tell tall tales about the 15 to 20 pounder they discovered.

I live here under this old cedar stump and have lived here ever since the lake came up. I'll tell you, I'm glad to see the water in old Medina again. It was pretty rough when the lake was so low.

It was easy enough to get food then, because the shad was pretty thick. All you had to do was run into a school and catch all you wanted. But there was no good place to live. So I was always on the move. But all that is changed.

Now I can just lie here under this old stump and watch until a perch or minnow comes by, then rush out and get him.

I get a kick out of watching the fishermen. Every one is different, even though each uses the same old lures.

You take old Temperature Tim. He comes by here about once a week in that old green boat of his and makes an 'awful fuss about taking the temperature of the water.

He's right, you know. We fish do have certain likes and dislikes, just as humans do, when it comes to temperature. But if he'd spend the time fishing, that he does fooling with that thermometer, he'd catch more fish.

Not me, of course. He's not good enough to fool me—not in a thousand years—but he'll catch a lot of those three and four pound youngsters.

Incidentally, there's one good fisherman who comes around here ever' once in a while. I don't trust that guy. He knows someone's living under this old stump, and he cuts his motor off way up the line and sneaks up here with a paddle. Boy, is that guy good with a paddle.

Sometimes the first clue that I get that he's in the area is when his plug hits the water. His only fault is that he's not a good caster, would sneak up like that and drop a lure real easy, right on top of me, I might hit it before I realized what I was doing. Oh, I'll tell you, I have to be careful.

Old Top Water Tom worries me. Now there's a good caster. He fishes with nothing but a chuggar. Even though I know he's in the area, when he drops that black chuggar right on my nose and lets it stay there motionless for a while, I really have to hold myself to keep from just smashing that thing whenever he twitches it.

I guess I know just about every kind of lure there is. If a new one comes out, I'll see it pretty soon because old Changeable Charley will be out here throwing it at me.

He almost caught me last year. Would have, too, if he hadn't been careless.

He threw a funny-shaped contraption in here early one morning and woke me up. I was in a foul mood anyway, so I just decided to smash that thing. Didn't see that monofilament line, cause he had it tied directly to that lure.

Man, was I surprised when he set that hook. I made one hard run and broke his line where it was frayed a bit near the lure.

I'm sure thankful he was one of those guys who never breaks off the last foot or two of his line when he's been fishing awhile. I jumped right near his boat and threw that fool thing out and I'll bet they heard him all the way to Seekatz.

These beginners furnish lots of entertainment for me, too. I'll admit it's not as bad as it used to be because most of them fish with this new spinning tackle and don't backlash like they once did.

Butstill, they're lots of fun. They get out here in the heat of the day when no self-respecting fish would be out. They stomp around in the boat and drink beer and throw the cans into the water, and cuss the game department for not stocking the lake. Of course they never catch a thing, but maybe they'll learn. I'll just be careful — in case.

Excuse me, warden, there's a minnow over there that's hurt bad, so bad that he's just sinking down to the bottom. I want to catch him before some of those young nephews of mine see him. I'll be right back.

THE KISS OF GOD

Note: This poem is submitted to The Herald to the cheerful, loving Christian memory of my Mother, Mrs. J. E. Curlee of Lexington, Texas.

Louise Curlee Archer

It was not death to me,
Nor aught the least like falling into sleep.
It was nothing to joy upon
Nor yet to weep.
It was an infinitely perfect peace
wherein the world entranced Stood quiet still outside of time and space:
And like a changless, everchanging face
Looked kindly on me
As I knelt
And waited on His will.
It was not night
Nor day—
But bright with rainbow colors
Of an everlasting dawn
Down from the golden glory light
There shown in His great eyes.
The mysteries of earth
Lay open like a book,
And I could read
But slowly, as a small child reads
With an often upward look
That pleads
For Help—still doubtful of the truth
until he sees it mirrored
In the answering eyes of love.
So I looked up to God
And while I held my breath,
I saw Him slowly nod,
And knew—as I had never known all else
WITH CERTANTY sublime and passionate,
Shot through and through
With sheer unutterable bliss
I KNEW
There was no death but this GOD'S KISS.
AND THEN THE WAKING TO AN EVERLASTING LOVE.

Stedman Co. For Ford Tractors

You get power you can depend on with Ford Powermaster tractors available at Stedman Tractor Co., Cameron, according to H. H. Stedman, agency owner.

Stedman points out that his tractor agency features sales and service on all Ford tractors and field equipment and New Holland balers, rakes and mowers.

His company also handles the famous Maytag gas range, washers, dryers and conventional washers. Another product well-known for its efficient operation, Stedman says, is Toro Lawnmowers.

"We have operated a Ford tractor agency since 1946 on the basis of fair price on all our farm equipment, good trade-in allowances on used equipment and the best Ford farm equipment repair in Central Texas."

Smith Manages Agency

Hugh Smith has managed Stedman Tractor since it was opened. The agency was moved to its present location, First and North Central, a short time after it was established in Cameron after World War II.

"Stedman Tractor also has excellent service personnel in Leroy Barkemeyer, our service manager and Herman Reineke, tractor mechanic. Barkemeyer has 10 years of experience while Reineke has about seven," Stedman says.

Smith points out that Stedman Tractor services what it sells to the satisfaction of the customer.

He says that Ford's 1958 Powermaster Tractors give the user maximum power whether tilling, cultivating or doing any other tractor field work.

"Among our tractor parts are outstanding Ford batteries and a complete parts stock." Stedman notes.

A. W. McCullin, Mack's Oil Company owner assures his customers that the same fine service and products are available at the temporary location.

While highway work is progressing, McCullin is also making improvements at his service station location. He will resurface, adding a cement driveway, and plans modernization of his retail gasoline pump and service area.

In addition to the improvements now being made, company offices were recently remodeled as part of a continuing effort to keep facilities of Mack's Oil Company up to the latest in motorists requirements in an auto service center.

McCullin has two other retail outlets in Rockdale and Caldwell.

His Cameron station features Phillips Petroleum products including diesel fuel, motor oils, and gasoline. He also sells Lee tires, the famous Gates belts, Purolator oil filters and Champion sparkplugs, all well-known brand items.

"You will find complete service at Mack's 66 in Cameron," McCullin says. "And the same efficient, courteous Phillips 66 service awaits you at the Rockdale and Caldwell stations."

Brewer, Tomasek, Vaculin Cited For Soil Conservation Program

By Wayne Mann

Many cooperators in the Central Texas Soil Conservation District are using the cost share assistance offered by Agriculture Conservation Program to help them in their efforts to control the undesirable trees and underbrush on their grassland.

All farm operators recognize the importance of brush control and it is usually included in their conservation plans. Because of the high cos. per acre, this practice has been the bottleneck that has kept most cooperators from completing all planned conservation practices on their farms.

Cooperators Cited

Sam Brewer, Henry Tomasek and Victor Vaculin are examples of some farmers who had completed about everything that could be done before the brush was removed. Bulldozers with rootplows and rakes were used to remove the trees and to level the lard so that it can be mowed or given other needed treatment. This land will now be seeded or sodded to a perennial grass such as Bermuda or coastal Bermuda.

Even though the original brush from this land has been removed, the brush problem is usually always present and very little is gained unless proper follow-up with good grazing management is practiced. Some operators plan to seed small grain or legumes on the land until all seedling trees are killed. After this they will follow up with the permanent grass.

The brush control practice will be in the 1959 Agriculture Conservation Program again and should be a great help in not only conservation benefits but also production benefits.

Carpets Keep New Look

With proper care wall to wall carpeting will retain the new look.

Correct cleaning methods have seemingly been a mystery and controversial even to carpet manufacturers. After much research a product is on the market that cleans and fluffs up beat down carpet paths plus removal of spots thereby maintaining the new look. The textile engineer of a large carpet mill says— "it's the best we've found."

The product is Blue Lustre. It is easily applied with a long handle brush. One half gallon of Blue Lustre concentrate cleans three 9 x 12 rugs.

County Agent Suggests

Use Slack Season For Brush Control

By J. D. Moore
County Agent

The winter months are a slack season for many farmers and stockmen. This slack scason is an excellent time for chemical brush control. Individual tree treatment of mesquite and other brush species with 2, 4 5-T mixed in diesel oil or kerosene at the rate of 1 pound in 10 gallons has proven to give satisfactory results. This can be done while trees are dormant.

Barbee Barrett is doing a demonstration with 2, 4, 5-T. He is spraying some cut-off mesquite, using the basal treatment by spraying one to two quarts around the base of the larger mesquites and applying material to frills cut in larger trees. Any of the above methods would kill trees and brush along fence rows or in pastures. Caution should be taken in applying 2, 4, 5-T in the presence of susceptible broad leafed plants.

DAIRY RECORDS

The dairy business is no exception when considering the value of records. The John Lawhon family of the Minerva community is starting their dairy herd on the "weigh a day a month" program. This program is practical and not difficult to follow.

Briefly, all the cows in the milking herd are enrolled at a small cost of 5 cents per cow per month. Milk and feed weights are taken on each cow in the milking barn one day out of each month. These records are turned in to the county extension office to be computed each month until enough herds are entered in the program to justify an individual to act as a computing service.

Dairy specialists at A & M College will receive a copy of the monthly record sheet. These records will enable the owner, the county agent and diary specialist to be in a better position to assist with management problems for better profits from the dairy herd.

CHEMICAL WEED CONTROL

Due to the high cost of mechanical weed control, many farmers and stockmen could use 2, 4-D and water at the rate of 1 lb of amine 2,4-D in 15 gallons of water per acre with 1 cup of liquid detergent or commercial wetting agent or 1½ to 2 pounds of dry detergent per 100 gallons of spray mixture to control weeds effectively.

The applications should be made during the latter part of March for two reasons. First, at this time the weeds are just coming up and at this stage are more easily killed. Secondly, at this time very few susceptible crops such as cotton, etc., are present. This material should be used with caution. A new bulletin on chemical weed control is available at the Extension office.

Prevent Grasses From Spreading

Use C-56 plus dinitro in kerosene at the rate of one gallon of the material to 100 gallons of kerosene. This material can be sprayed along the borders of the grass to prevent spreading. The material can be purchased from dealers handling Southwest Sprayer and Chemicals out of Waco. The cost of the mix should run about 19 cents per gallon when ready to apply.

Contact the county Extension office for information.

DORMANT SPRAYS

Dormant sprays should be applied to fruit and nut trees to control scale insects. Use a 3 per cent oil spray before the buds begin to swell since the oil would damage the buds after growth begins.

Yoe High Party Set For Friday

The presidents of each class are responsible for the food, the secretaries and vice-presidents are in charge of recreation and decorations. The reporters are responsible for the cafeteria after the party.

The party will begin at 8 and be over at 11:30.

REPORTABLE DISEASES

Reportable diseases in Milam County last week were: 24 chickenpox, 33 strept throat, 12 influenza, 2 measles and 2 pneumonia, according to Dr. T. E. Crump, acting director of the Milam County Health Department.

Fertilizer use the last half of 1958 increased slightly more than 4 per cent over the same period of 1957, reports J. F. Fudge, state chemist. This increast represents almost a 9,000 ton increase over the 213 800 tons during the last half of 1957.

Steps To Increase Profits

Use of cattle and poultry manure as a source of plant nutrients and organic matter can mean profits in increased production ond decreased fertilizer costs, reminds Bill Bennett, extension soil chemist.

The value of manure will depend on the type of bedding or litter used, age and type of animals and type of feed used, Bennett pointed out. In general, however, one ton of dairy manure will be about equal to 100 pounds of 8-4-8. A ton of poultry manure will equal about 100 pounds of 20-16-8.

Handling of manure prior to application can sometimes have a lot to do with its value, Bennett added. He said the best practice is to haul manure directly to the field, spread it and incorporate into the soil as soon as possible.

"However, this usually isn't practical," Bennett explained. "Hence proper storage and handling is necessary. Manure piles should be covered if possible to prevent rainmater from moving through the manure and leaching out valuable nutrients. It is advisable to keep the pile dry if possible to prevent heating and loss of nitrogen as ammonia gas. Once manure is spread and incorporated, the chance of losing nutrients is decreased except for normal rainfall leaching."

Crops requiring high levels of nitrogen should receive preference on available supplies of manure. Corn, cotton and grass pasture also give good response. Application rates on these crops should seldom exceed four or five tons per acre. If the supply is limited, as is usually the case, it would generally be better to spread the manure over more acres.

Since cattle manure is low in phosphorus, application of additional phosphorus may be desirable on very low phosphorus soils. Poultry is relatively low in potassium and additional potassium as muriate of potash may be advisable on low potassium soils. A soil test will reveal your soil's needs.

Fight Bollworm

"Ways to Fight the Pink Bollworm" is the title of a leaflet, L-219, just released by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The Experiment Station also has released MP-306, "Commercial Meat Packing Plants in Texas." Both are available from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas. The former may also be obtained from local county agents.
